$10,000 Gold: Bullion Management Group CEO Nick Barisheff to Publish New Book with John Wiley & Sons Canada Ltd.

Markham, ON – May 3, 2012 – Bullion Management Group is pleased to announce that John Wiley & Sons Canada Ltd. will publish $10,000 Gold: The Inevitable Rise and the Investor's Safe Haven by founder, president and CEO of Bullion Management Group Inc., Nick Barisheff. $10,000 Gold is scheduled for release in the fall of 2012; readers can download the Author's Preface for no charge at: www.10000goldbook.com.

$10,000 Gold explains why gold will continue to climb in price; makes the case for owning gold based on the precious metals' strong fundamentals; and shows investors how to include gold in their portfolios.

In the face of continuing market turbulence, $10,000 Gold shows readers they can have a positive financial future regardless of how Wall Street performs, or how much purchasing power printed currencies lose. Five thousand years of economic history demonstrates that gold is the ultimate safe haven in times of uncertainty, yet it is virtually absent from the portfolios of global pension funds and insurance companies that are responsible for trillions of dollars' worth of the world's financial assets. This makes it even more important for individual retail investors to include gold in a future-proof financial plan.

Nick Barisheff is the founder, president and CEO of Bullion Management Group Inc., a company dedicated to providing investors with a secure, cost-effective, convenient way to purchase and hold physical bullion. Widely recognized as a bullion expert, Barisheff has written numerous articles on bullion and current market trends, which are published on various news and business websites. He has appeared on BNN, CBC and CNBC, and been interviewed for articles appearing in the Globe and Mail, National Post, Toronto Star, Advisor's Edge, Investment Executive and more. He has spoken at The Empire Club of Canada and venues worldwide, and is interviewed regularly on Financial Sense Newshour, a US Internet radio program.
